Allowable subject matter

Claims 1-19 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The prior art neither discloses nor suggests the following limitations, in combination with the remaining elements as disclosed in claims 1 and 9:

"rating means for generating a moderation value for each amendment derived from the moderation inputs received from the moderation means and for storing the moderation value so generated in the repository, means for generating a user moderation value in respect of each user, from moderation inputs of other users made in respect of amendments made by the user, and means for applying their respective user moderation values to inputs made by each user." as required by claim 1.

"generating a moderation value for each amendment, the moderation value being determined by the moderation inputs, generating for each user a user moderation value derived from moderation inputs applied by other users made in respect of amendments made by the user, applying inputs made by each user, the respective user moderation value." as required by claim 9.

The closest reference Trauring (6,513,033) teaches that a system for approving a proposal determined by total votes from each user however, Trauring fails to disclose means for generating a user moderation value in respect of each user or generating a user moderation value for each user derived from moderation inputs.

Proper motivation has not been found in any references for combining the teachings to meet the claimed limitations.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
